The first of these is the fact that the Journal of the American Medical Association has been the only one of the four leading medical journals to publish a regular column on the subject of "Medical Ethics." This column, which is edited by Dr. J. H.
 Hodge, of the University of Chicago, has been published since 1912, and has been one of the most valuable and interesting contributions to the literature of medical ethics. It has been widely read and has been highly praised by the medical profession. It has been one of the most valuable contributions to the literature of medical ethics.
